Pirates are sneaking around the garden, while Emil and Duckling are playing in the house. Suddenly, a bang: Everything tumbles and ends up in a chaos. Kids will love cleaning up the mess and discover more than just a treasure in the process.
Inside and outside, near and far, loud and quiet, here and there, big and small – ATAK's joyful, blazingly multi-coloured pictures don't need many words to tell a compelling story: A gang of scary pirates are sneaking through the garden in a moonlit night, unnoticed by Emil and Duckling who are playing in their cosy room. And if there hadn't been this deafening bang leaving the house in a tumble, Emil and Duckling might not have had to tidy up. Maybe they wouldn't have discovered the pirates and the treasure at all. A wonderfully old-fashioned, interactive picture book with pop-up elements. Here, kids can make sense of a topsy-turvy world for themselves while creating their own individual adventure – what more could you want?
