

© Christiane Eisler

Kathrin Aehnlich

Kathrin Aehnlich was born in Leipzig in 1957. She studied at the school of civil engineering and then, between 1985 and 1988, at the German Institute for Literature, Leipzig. She is the author of radio plays, short stories and a children's book. After the fall of the Berlin Wall she worked as a journalist. Her first novel, Alle sterben, auch die Löffelstöre (Everyone dies, even the paddlefish), was a surprise bestseller in Germany. Her most recent publication is Rom – New York – Markkleeberg: Vom Unterwegssein (Rome – New York – Markkleeberg: On the road).

Other titles of the author

When the whales go ashore 978-3-88897-859-3