

© Bernhard Haselbeck

Peter Probst

Peter Probst was born in Munich in 1957. He studied German and Italian literature as well as catholic theology. He soon began writing scripts for shows such as Tatort and has been rewarded with numerous prizes for his Tv scripts. He started writing children's crime fiction, then general crime fiction novels such as Blinde Flecken (Blind spots) or Im Namen des Kreuzes (In the name of the cross). Together with his wife Amelie Fried he wrote the non-fiction book Verliebt, verlobt...verrückt? (In love, engaged...insane?). They live together in Munich.

Other titles of the author

How I invented sex 978-3-95614-384-7