

Thomas Gsella, Rudi
Hurzlmeier
Nature's a swine

160 pages
Euro 16,00 € (D)
published in September 2016
ISBN 978-3-95614-125-6

No-one is quite so crazy about Nature as the Germans. As soon as ever the rain inadvertently stops, off they go into their beloved environment, to slip on wet leaves and guarantee the flu, or heat stroke and sunburn in summer. All the world's ills, every misfortune comes from nature and what do the Germans do? They do what they like to do best: they identify with the aggressor and become one with the swine.

Becoming one with Nature: for lyricist and satirist Thomas Gsella, that is never an option. You have to put up a fight with poems, laments and tirades. Rail against puddles and ticks, birds and meadows, hedgehogs and roots, against water, ravines and trees, against the sun, the moon and the stars... oh, and against clover, of course.

Humour means: laugh all the same,
But no one laughs at clover.
There's a dark magic in its name –
All those four-leaves puzzled over.

With Thomas Gsella's poems in your daypack, you can confidently head out into Nature, safe in the knowledge that you can face all challenges with wit and high spirits. Sound like a plan?

© Tom Hintner

Thomas Gsella

Thomas Gsella writes prose and lyric poetry for radio and television, newspapers and magazines (including FAZ, Zeit, taz, Titanic). He was awarded the Robert Gernhardt Prize in 2011. His weekly rhyming column has been a popular feature of Stern since 2013.

Rudi Hurzlmeier

© Verlag Antje Kunstmann